

The little things
Are no longer so little
Am I crazy?
Am I stupid?
Yes
A thousand times yes
But to not
Take this chance
To risk losing
You
Would be a million times more

Let me drown in your embrace
Let my soul melt into yours
I love you
I love you
With every broken piece I have
With every shattered fragment of my being
I love you
I love you

Life is too short for maybes
Here is my heart
Raw and full of things left unsaid
Bared upon paper and prose
I love you
Please love me.
